

István Ruppert (1954) is a unique person in Hungarian musical life. In addition to his training in music, he has a degree in mechanical engineering. Immediately after receiving his degree in organ performance in 1987, he was offered the position of organ teacher at the Széchenyi István University and the Franz Liszt Academy of Music. Between 2006 and 2019 he had been working as a dean of the Faculty of Performing Arts of the Szechenyi University in Győr. He has performed in many churches and centers of music in Hungary, throughout Europe, Japan, Brasil and USA. A great advocate of contemporary Hungarian music. He took his doctor's degree in 2004. In 2009

he was honoured with the region's „Prima – prize” and in 2020 with the Liszt-prize.