THE UNIVERSITY - DEVELOPMENT & STRUCTURE

Széchenyi István University was founded in 1968 as the Polytechnic of Transportation and Telecommunication. The various buildings of the new campus in Győr were built between 1971 and 1977. During the 1970s and 1980s, the institution strove to satisfy the need for polytechnic-level engineering education in the two prominent infrastructural branches, namely transportation and telecommunications. After the end of Socialism in Hungary in 1990, the institution, in addition to its traditional fields of education, allotted its development funds to meet the labour expectations of the prosperous economy of NW Hungary and the demands of multinational companies in the region.

Széchenyi István University was raised to full university status from 01 January 2002. Since January 2016, the University has expanded by merging with one faculty located in Mosonmagyaróvár, so that currently the University has 9 faculties situated on 1 main and 5 auxiliary campuses. There is also a teaching location in Budapest.

The principle aims of the University are to provide education leading to Bachelors, Masters as well as doctoral level degrees in a range of academic fields; to offer postgraduate programmes and to carry out research, consultancy and other professional activities. Over the years, the number of academic fields covered by the University has been extended considerably. There are around 14,000 full-time students registered at the Institution, of which over 800 are international students. The number of academic staff is around 630, including 300 professors and associate professors.

The City of Győr

Lying halfway between Budapest and Vienna, Győr with its 140,000 inhabitants, is one of the most fortuitously situated cities in Hungary. Close to the western border, located at a meeting point of major highways, railways, and three rivers (the Danube, the Rába and the Mosoni-Duna), Győr is an obligatory stop for anyone travelling in Central Europe.

The restoration of its Baroque city centre was awarded a European Prize for the Protection of Historic Buildings. Churches, palaces, museums, characteristic corner-balconies and narrow lanes, all reminders of a historic past, invite visitors to take a walk in the centre of the city.

With its important commercial and industrial heritage, Győr is today one of the most dynamically developing cities in the country. Hungarian branches of multinational companies (e.g. Audi) have established themselves here, encouraged by the presence of existing large Hungarian companies (such as RÁBA). As a result, an enormous demand has been generated in the region for a highly skilled labour force.

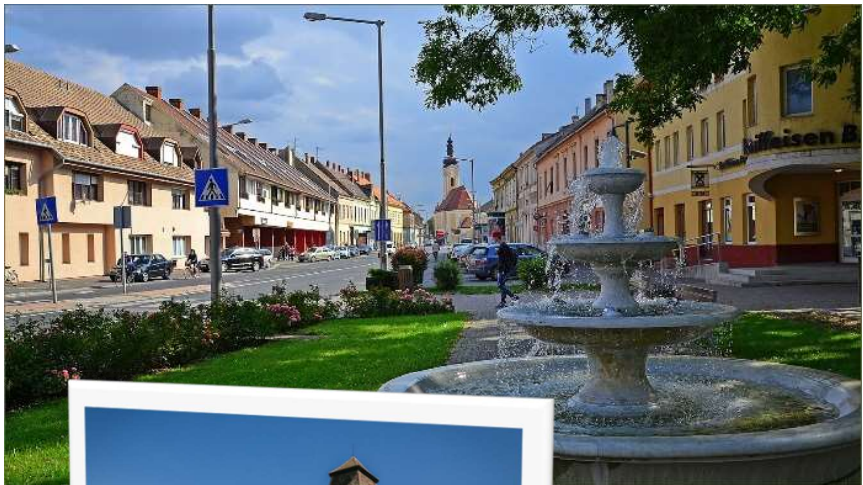

Mosonmagyaróvár

The Faculty of Agriculture and Food Sciences of Széchenyi University (in the smaller photo) is located in the renovated castle of Mosonmagyaróvár on the Mosonmagyaróvár campus of Széchenyi István University.

Lying close to both the Austrian and Slovakian borders, Mosonmagyaróvár is a town in Győr-Moson-Sopron county, only 30 km from Győr.

Mosonmagyaróvár was originally two separate towns, Magyaróvár and Moson. The two towns were combined in 1939, and by now almost all signs of dualism have disappeared, as the space between the two towns has become physically and culturally developed. Due to the length of the name, Mosonmagyaróvár is also referred to as Óvár amongst locals.

The climate of Hungary

The climate of Hungary can be described as a typical European continental influenced climate with warm, dry summers and fairly cold winters. There are four seasons – winter: December-January-February, spring: March-April-May, summer: June-July-August and autumn: September-October-November.

Winter

Spring

Summer

Autumn

January is the coldest month with daytime temperatures usually around zero. The yearly average number of days with snow is fewer than 40 in lowland areas of Hungary, but as many as 120 days in the mountainous regions of the country. In summer, daytime temperatures reach 20-25°C, but sometimes even higher, 30°C or more. Most of the time there is dry weather with sunny spells, although sometimes heavy thunderstorms can occur towards evening. July is the warmest month with an average temperature of 22°C. Annual precipitation is about 400-600 mm in the lowland areas, but higher in the mountainous regions.

Generally, the weather is best in May-September, when the days are warm and the nights cool, although it rains more in spring than in summer. Autumn and winter are usually a little chilly and wet, sometimes snowy and often foggy, especially in mountain areas.

TRANSPORTATION

Transportation within Hungary

In Hungary, international air traffic goes through one airport, Liszt Ferenc Airport (formerly Ferihegy), located on the outskirts of Budapest. Airports located in neighbouring countries convenient for travel to Hungary, are Vienna Airport (Austria) and Bratislava Airport (Slovakia). Transfer services operate between these airports and the city of Győr.

Transportation from Budapest

By train: Trains departing from Budapest Keleti Railway Station arrive in Győr in 85 minutes. Besides the 9 or 10 InterCity trains that run daily, most international express trains arriving in Hungary from Western Europe stop in Győr, so it is possible to reach the city without having to go through Budapest. If you have a student card, train tickets are reasonably cheap in Hungary. Intercity trains are the most convenient way to travel: they are fast and comfortable, and tickets cost only a few hundred forints more than for an ordinary train. Train tickets must be purchased in advance at the train station or from a travel agent. The website <http://www.mav-start.hu> will help you plan your route and give you information on ticket prices.

By bus: Buses depart from Népliget bus station and the journey time is approximately an hour and a half. International buses (from Vienna, Bratislava, Prague and Munich) also have scheduled stops in Győr.

By car: Take the M1 motorway. Győr lies halfway along the highway from Vienna to Budapest, approximately 125 km distant from both cities.

Arriving in Győr

The Railway Station in Győr

The railway station (Pályaudvar) is located in the middle of the city, behind the City Hall (Városháza). The University is about 15-20 minutes' walk from the station. Just head through the centre, then cross the bridge over the Mosoni-Duna River.

Public transport in Győr

Within the town of Győr there is a wide network of buses available. To reach the University, you can take bus No. 11, 29. The buses run from 5.15am until 22.15pm from Monday to Sunday.

The stop for No. 29 bus (Városháza) is located only 2 minutes from the railway station. The bus stop for the No. 11 is located about 5 minutes from the railway station, on the opposite side of the main road (Szent István út) in Aradi vértanúk útja.

To get to the University, travelling on either No. 11 or No. 29 bus, get off at the stop Széchenyi István Egyetem. Note that the announcements on the bus before major stops like the University and the Hospital are also made in German and English.

For the entire schedule and bus routes, visit the following website:

http://www.enykk.hu/aktiv_tartalom/menetrendes/web.cgi?func=linelist&lang=en&city=gy

Bus tickets (as well as season tickets) are available at the bus station, at kiosks and from ticket machines at several bus stops for 250 HUF. If you buy a ticket on the bus directly from the driver it will cost 440 HUF. Tickets must be validated using a hand-operated machine when boarding the vehicle. Students are entitled to reduced rates.

Taxis

After a night out in town you might want to take a taxi back home. Taxis are significantly more expensive than public transport, so it is a good idea to share it with other people. When taking a taxi, you should avoid hailing unmarked cabs. Even if they have a taxi sign on the top of the vehicle and are seen standing at taxi ranks, do not get into the car unless they have a company name on the outside of the car. The main taxi company in Győr is Duna Taxi – Tel: (06 96) 444 444.

ARRIVING IN HUNGARY

RULES AND DOCUMENTS

On 7 March 2022, Government Decree No. 77 of 2022 (III. 4.) on the termination of certain safety measures against the coronavirus pandemic entered into force, which repealed Government Decree No. 408 of 2020 (VIII. 30.) on travel restrictions during the period of state of epidemiological preparedness.

In accordance with this, it is possible to enter the territory of Hungary by public road, railway, water and air traffic – regardless of citizenship and protection against the coronavirus –, but other general conditions of entry (e.g. a valid travel document) must be provided.

However, airlines may request the PCR test for travelling, so we kindly ask you to contact the airline companies directly for further information: <https://www.police.hu/en/content/for-the-attention-of-travelers>

STUDENT CARD VS. UNIVERSITY CARD

As a student studying at the University, you will need to have two cards. A provisional Student Card is issued to every student enrolled at Széchenyi István University. This card is not an actual card – it is a certificate that you are a registered student of the University and is free of charge. This personal document must be validated every 60 days to certify that you are still a registered student of the University. Before the expiry date, you need to extend the validation at the Student Service Centre.

During your stay at the university, you will also need a University Card, shown here, which allows access to the Halls of Residence, Library and the various sporting facilities. It costs 1,500 HUF, and the Student Service Centre will prepare it for you. If you lose the Student Card, it will cost you 3,500 HUF to get a replacement.

EVERYDAY LIFE

Currency

The forint has been the official currency in Hungary since August 1946. Banknotes come in denominations of 500, 1,000, 2,000, 5,000, 10,000 and 20,000. Six different coins are in use: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100 and 200 forint coins.

Currency exchange services are available at banks and ATMs (on campus or in the city centre), but the best way to change currencies is to find exchange kiosks advertising 'no commission'. Most banks do not charge any commission, so you will get forints at the daily exchange rate. The exchange rate can vary so it is a good idea to check two or three places before the transaction. However, certain bank machines situated in the tourist areas of the city centre may charge a 2 to 3% commission. Although the euro will probably not be adopted in Hungary for the foreseeable future, in certain places you will see prices quoted in euros for comparison. The exchange rate for the euro is currently around 385 HUF. (March 2023)

Credit cards are widely accepted. If in doubt, ask the shop assistant or look for symbols on shop windows. The most popular credit cards are Visa, Mastercard and American Express. You can also open a bank account, as the non-residential account service is designed especially for foreign nationals. All you need is your passport. You can open a forint account or an account in any other major currency.

Shopping

Shops are generally open from 9 or 10 am to 6 pm. Smaller shops may close for a lunch break. Shopping centres are open until later (7 or 8 pm). There are two kinds of 24-hour shop: small convenience stores in the city centre and the Tesco hypermarket. Supermarkets are cheaper than inner-city stores and regularly offer special deals to attract consumers.

Stores of the following chains can be found in most cities in Hungary: Tesco, Spar, Lidl and Aldi. If you have plenty of time to spend shopping for fresh meat, fruit and vegetables the best place to go is the local market (piac = market OR csarnok = market hall). Goods are cheaper there.

Hungarian Cuisine

Although vegetables and vegetable dishes are by no means absent from the Hungarian table, typical Magyar food is heavy on dairy, cheese and meats, similar to that of neighbouring cuisines.

Chicken, pork and beef are very common, while turkey, duck, lamb, fish and game meats are also eaten but not as frequently (mostly on special occasions). Hungary is also famous for the high quality and relatively inexpensive salamis and sausages it produces primarily from pork, but also poultry, beef, etc.

Hungary is also well-known for the wide variety of desserts, pastries and cakes to be found in bakeries, cafés and, best of all, in the Hungarian home.

Typical dishes to try while in Hungary:

- * Gulyásleves : goulash soup
- * Húsleves: meat soup
- * Halászlé: fish soup
- * Meggyleves: cold sour cherry soup
- * Jókai bableves: bean soup Jókai style
- * Hortobágyi palacsinta: savoury pancake filled with minced meat
- * Túrós csusza: pasta with cottage cheese
- * Töltött káposzta: stuffed cabbage
- * Pörkölt: a thick stew made from different kinds of meat
- * Lecsó: stewed onions, tomatoes and peppers
- * Paprikás krumpli : potatoes with paprika
- * Somlói galuska: sponge with custard, chocolate, sultanas
- * Mákos guba: dumplings with poppy seed
- * Szilvás gombóc: dumplings filled with plum
- * Dobostorta: chocolate cake with a crunchy caramel topping
- * Rétes: strudel
- * Szaloncukor (filled chocolates eaten at Christmas)
- * Beigli: Christmas cake filled with walnut or poppy seed filling
- * Lángos: large fried bread topped with sour cream and cheese

Accommodation

If you prefer not to live in university accommodation, you can rent a flat in Győr. Being a university city, there is a wide variety of flats for rent during the academic year. Prices for a small flat are around 100,000 – 160,000 HUF / month plus utilities and “common costs” of the condominium. Of course, you could also share the flat with a friend, or join a group of students who have already rented a flat.

If you rent an apartment, your water, gas and electricity bills will arrive by post on a monthly basis. You must pay these bills by cash at the post office or by bank transfer. If you fail to pay them on time, as a first step you will get a gentle reminder from the provider in question telling you how late your payment is and informing you about the interest on your overdue payment. The second step is having your supply cut off. You will also have to pay a fine. In Hungary, appliances run on 220-volt electricity. If the plug on your appliance does not fit the socket you can easily find adapters at an electrical store.

If you are considering renting a flat, you can visit the following webpages:

Communications

Phones

Hungary's country code is 36. To make a long distance call within Hungary, dial 06 followed by the area code, then the actual number. 'Green numbers' starting with 06 80 are free of charge, while calling 'blue numbers' (starting with 06 40) entails a local call charge.

Postal services

There are numerous post offices throughout the town. The main post-office is near the theatre and there is also a large one next to the main station. The small post-office situated next to the campus is open from 6.00 am to 6.00 pm on weekdays only. Besides mailing your letters here you can pay your bills as well as transfer money.

Health and social care

Free numbers for emergencies

Ambulance 104

Police 107

Fire service 105

General emergency 112

112 is the number you should call if you see, or are involved in, an accident. Hungarian doctors are famous throughout the world for their expertise, so you can trust them, no matter what. First aid and emergency medical care is free for foreigners.

If you do not have health insurance valid for Hungary you will have to pay for further treatment. State hospitals do not have very high charges for services, but if you go to a private clinic you can expect to pay quite a bit more. If you are participating in an international student exchange programme or studying at a state institute you can receive free medical care on campus from the university medical centre.

Pharmacies sell a whole range of over-the-counter products for less serious complaints. There are some pharmacies open 24 hours a day, but you have to pay an additional fee if you go at night. You will find a bell by the door, which you have to press to speak to the pharmacist.

From 1 November 2005, medical care for EU citizens has been ensured on the basis of the European Health Insurance Card, just as in any other EU state. Agreements with non-EU states remain in force after the accession as well. Please do not forget to bring your European Health Insurance card or a certificate that you are insured in your home country so you will be able to enjoy the same medical care as Hungarian students.

In the case of citizens of a non-EU state the insurance system is regulated by bilateral agreements. In cases where there is no such agreement with the country in question the provision of medical assistance is regulated by Hungarian legislation. If you are staying here at your own expense, you should either purchase the most suitable insurance package at home or join the Voluntary Insurance Group in Hungary (the cost is 100% of the minimum wage).

Széchenyi István University is equipped to accept physically disabled students. We have special rooms and passages with wheelchair access and all the rooms and offices on campus are available for people with disabilities.

Police Matters

If you have fallen victim to a crime, call the 112 emergency number. It is important that you accurately tell where you are and where the case happened. Someone who speaks English can be put in contact with you.

If a crime was committed against you, make a denunciation as soon as possible. This can be done personally at any police station, prosecutors office or court, in e-mail, letter or by telephone. Besides, you can make a denunciation by calling the +36 80 555 111 number of the "Telefontanú" (Telephone Witness).

Hungarian police wear grey and blue uniforms and drive white and blue cars. They are entitled to ask to see your papers at any time, but this generally happens either late in the evening or for a good reason. This is just a routine check. There are various police units ensuring the safety of the city - for example in the city centre. If you are arrested (and this rarely happens to foreign students) you have the right to speak to a lawyer, to use the help of an interpreter, and to contact your country's embassy within 24 hours.

Public safety in Hungary is improving and there are some very encouraging statistics. Whenever you are in a crowded place watch out for pickpockets and NEVER leave anything on view in your car that is valuable or eye-catching.

The new buildings are modern and well-equipped, featuring multifunctional spaces and lounges ideal for cultural, entertainment and scientific activities. Completed at the end of June 2017, the 566 rooms provide high-standard accommodation for a total of 1120 residents. Six rooms are reserved for students with reduced mobility. In the two buildings there are altogether 283 bathrooms, one bathroom per each two-roomed apartment. Rooms in the hostel are fully furnished and the beds equipped with mattresses, pillows and duvets. Duvet covers and pillow slips can be rented at a price of 2,000 HUF per term. In every corridor there is a communal kitchen equipped with electric heating plate, stove and microwave oven.

The accommodation fees of 40,000 HUF/person (in a double occupancy room) are to be paid by remittance every month. In the Halls, Wi-Fi is free for the first device but for the second (and for each further) device there is a fee: 6,500 HUF for a laptop and 2,000 HUF for a mobile phone.

In order to obtain the special room keys and also as a security deposit against damage, all residents of the Halls of Residence have to pay a deposit of 20,000 HUF (70 EUR). When the key is returned and if the room is left in an acceptable condition at the end of the stay, the student will get the full deposit back.

Electronic system

The Halls of Residence have their own electronic entry system, and only authorized people may enter. Residents need the University Card and a fingerprint, which must be used by all students both entering and leaving.

IMPORTANT: Please note that you should submit your application for University on-campus accommodation for the Autumn semester as soon as possible.
