

Call for Applications

Digital Services Regulation and Sustainable Democracy

Law, Business, IT and Governance

Winter Seminar 2023

Interdisciplinary Workshop and Short Study Programme

20-24 February 2023

Széchenyi István University Faculty of Law – Győr, Hungary

Supervisor of the Seminar

Prof. Peter Smuk,
Dean of the Faculty of Law

Co-ordinator

Dr. Gabor Hulko,
Associate professor of Administrative Law

People of Europe face numerous local and global challenges, tightly connected with the everchanging relationship of society and technological development. In another context, this relation defines the framework for democratic functioning and affects the quality of democracy. The Winter Seminar 2023 aims to discuss the new frontiers undertaken by the novel Digital Services Act of the European Union, in particular the digital services in 21st century, social media issues (fundamental rights concerns and fake news), disinformation, information society and online gatekeepers, law of big tech companies, data protection, big data, copyrights, cybercrime, cybersecurity, e-democracy, e-governance.

Description

- The interdisciplinary intensive seminar offers a workshop and a forum for students and young researchers.
- Noted experts, lecturers and professors from European universities help to discover and discuss the various aspects of the new challenges of democracy and capitalism.
- The seminar will include academic lectures, workshop opportunities and cultural events with the active contribution of participants.
- The Seminar is open for higher education students and PhD candidates as young researchers from any fields of legal, economic, media, humanity, international or security studies from all over Europe.
- The language of the Seminar is English.
- We present certificates of participation and contributions.

Venue

Széchenyi István University, Faculty of Law and Political Sciences, Building “J”
H-9026 Győr, Áldozat str. 12. (Hungary)

Costs

- Programme fee: 120 EUR
- Accommodation (main campus student hostel) – 5 nights included in the programme fee
- Meals – at own expense (recommended: main campus restaurant at student fares)

Application deadline:

20 January 2023

Application form:

<https://admissions.sze.hu/application-winter-seminar>

The applicants will be informed about the results until 31 January 2023.

Information and contact:

- Ms. Eszter Csizmarik (assistant) – csizmarik@ga.sze.hu;
- <https://dfk.sze.hu/winterseminar>
- <https://www.facebook.com/winterseminar/>

Join us on facebook:

<https://www.facebook.com/winterseminar/>